Samantha,

I am still working on getting the information from my client regarding their cell phones.

I am going to need to continue the deposition of Jordan Wright for a couple of weeks, I am going back to back on expert depositions on a case that I thought would settle.

Can you let me know if March 21,22, or 29th would work?

Sorry for the inconvenience.

Patrick,

Thanks for letting us know. I wanted to follow up with you on a question that I have been asking Laura for a couple of weeks now. I wanted to know whether your clients plan to produce their cell phone call logs and text messages (pursuant to our document requests) or whether we need to seek assistance from the court. As I previously explained to Laura, although your clients stated in response to Plaintiffs' requests for production of documents that they did not have any documents in response to any of our requests, we received a privilege log from Sang Lee indicating that your clients exchanged text messages with him, and thus such messages are responsive to the document requests.

Please let me know whether Charlie and Frank will produce the requested documents, and if so, when.

Thank you.

Sincerely,
Samantha
